

Colonial Day at Peace Valley

Our first grade students participated in a "Colonial Day" as part of an American history unit. The children dressed in colonial clothing and participated in a variety of hands-on activities. They also met and talked with Benjamin Franklin, signed their names using ink and feathers on their own version of the Declaration of Independence, made colonial flags, and ate colonial cookies!

